Original Poetry.

For the Kentucky Tribune.
TO MARY.

BY WILLIAM JAS. LITTLE.

A shade is on my brow—
A shadow on my heart;
I only feel that now.
Dear lady, we must part.
In childhood's hour we met—
Alas, alas, in vain—
Though I may ever forget,
I cannot love again.

That shadow still hangs o'er,
When I would happiest be.
My gayest hours, and we Steals, spectre-like, to me.
Be still, my aching heart—
Be calm as e'er before—
I only know we part,
I know we meet no more.

Love's dear, wild rapture now
My breast no more can swell;
I cannot hate thee, no.
I loved thee once too well.
Tis past, so let it be,
Twas idle to stone
With love's bewitchery
For what the past has done.

The joyous, and the fair,
Kneel suppliant to thy shrine;
Then hear another's prayer—
Thou wouldst not list to mine.
Be still, my aching heart,
Be quiet as before;
I only know we part,
I know we meet no more.

Love's dear, wild rapture now
My breast no more can swell;
I cannot hate thee, no.
I loved thee once too well.
Tis past, so let it be,
Twas idle to stone
With love's bewitchery
For what the past has done.

When Brothly reminded him of the old scare he face fell.

The look of contentment and happiness left it.

He was silent for a moment.

"I did not think you had sent for me to speak of that, or I should not have come Brothly."

"Well, we will not speak of it. I want you now to help me in another way. I want to marry a woman against her will."

"I will have nothing to do with it."

"Nonsense, Stevens. You will do it. It is just this."

And he told him all the circumstances and his plan. Stevens listened, and his eyes opened wider, until, when he named Kate Carlton, his eyes shut with a snap so quick that they could almost have been heard. Stevens now seemed to enter fully into his plans, and they arranged the minutiae without difficulty.

The next week was fixed for the accomplishment.

On the appointed morning Stevens was to present himself at the school as a messenger from the city with intelligence of the severe illness of Mrs. Carlton, and a request for the immediate attendance of the daughter. He was to convey her by carriage to the river, where they would take the steamer for New York, and Brothly would join them the same evening at a place to be appointed by Stevens. Everything promised success, and the clergyman, whom Stevens was to furnish, would perform his work, consent or consent.

In the drawing-room of an elegant residence in the city, at about nine o'clock of a winter evening, an old gentleman sat alone, looking in a splendid fire, manifestly absorbed in deep thought.

Before he slept, the shadows and shapes of nearly seventy years, and he did honor to them,

more or less, as they severely demanded it.—

Often his face grew dark and clouded sometimes it was clear and sunny, sometimes bitterly sad.

At length a lady entered. She was about forty years of age in appearance, and was still very beautiful. No girl of eighteen ever seemed more fresh in feature, more graceful in form, more winning in all her ways.

"She is here, my father."

"Let her come in, Kate, and I will tell her all."

The door opened, and Katharine Carlton entered. Her presence seemed to give new light to the room.

"Katharine, my child, come close to me, I have much to say to you to-night, and I would prepare you for a scene you have little anticipated."

She was kneeling by the old man's side, looking up into his face with trusting love.

"When I was a boy I loved one who was marvelously like what you are now. I can see her again when I look at you. I hated her, and I was proud of triumphing over her by winning his daughter against his stern commands. I loved her.

"My mother was a widow, residing at the Covington Wharf, thereby avoiding the extra expense of drawbacks and other expenses.

She was a young girl of seventeen. She was tall, slender, graceful, and of rare attractiveness of face and feature. The whole village had learned to love her, and yet she was never known to enter a house in that place. Miss

Carlton was the adored of all,

Exciting News from Kansas!

THE WAR BEGUN!

Seventeen Hours Burned—One Man Killed—Ostensible Conduct of the Abolitionists—Militia Ordered Out—Mourning Gathering to the Rescue.

St. Louis, Nov. 30th.—Exciting and highly important news from Kansas has just been received.

On Thursday, Nov. 29th, near Hickory Point three Abolitionists, armed with Sharp's rifles, went to the claim of Mr. Coleman, and peremptorily ordered him to leave, allowing him only ten minutes in which to do so, and threatening to shoot him in case of refusal to obey. He immediately left but shortly afterwards returned well armed. One of the three abolitionists then attempted to shoot him, but his rifle missed fire. Coleman thereupon shot him dead, and immediately gave himself up to the authorities for trial.

A band of Abolitionists, all armed with rifles, soon gathered, and returning to Coleman's house, drove his wife and children out, set fire to the building, and turned it down, together with the houses of the pro-slavery men in that vicinity.

Deputy Marshal Jones arrested the leader of the mob, and one other person, and obtained the names of twenty of the mob.

The Abolitionists are now gathering for a trial in Lexington, and have demanded the release of their comrades and the surrender into their hands of Coleman.

Gov. Shannon has ordered out the militia to aid the Marshal in sustaining the laws.

The proceedings have created the most intense excitement among the citizens in the two counties in Missouri, and they are preparing to call large numbers to Kansas to offer their services to the Governor in aid of maintaining the laws.

Some sixteen or seventeen houses in all have been burned at Hickory Point, and several citizens in that vicinity are missing.

The Governor of Kansas issued a proclamation calling upon all law-abiding citizens in the territory to suppress the outbreak.

INDEPENDENCE, Mo., Nov. 30.

A messenger arrived at Shawnee Mission, a town, who says that Deputy Marshal Jones and fifty men were marching to Lexington. He also says that Lawrence is up in arms, that the men are drilling every day, and that they had in their possession five pieces of artillery.

Outrages by the Abolitionists—Houses Burnt and Women Driven Away—The People Determined to Enforce Law and Order.

WESTON, Mo., Nov. 30.

The Abolitionists, who have a number of houses, and a number of families, consisting of women and children, in Missouri, are preparing to leave the State.

Two thousand men, who are ready to march to the aid of the Territory are readying their numbers to the assistance of the Sheriff of Douglas county, in the execution of the laws. That officer has, by this time, an overwhelming force at his command.

Sheriff Jones is acting as Deputy U. S. Marshal, for Douglas and Johnson counties.

The Very Latest—Excitement Increasing!

WESTON, Mo., Nov. 30, P. M.

The greatest excitement continues to exist in Kansas. The officers have been resisted by the mobocrats, and the position of the militia has been called for.

A urgent letter from Secretary Woodson to Gen. E. B. T. has been written in which the writer requests Gen. E. to call for the militia in Platine City, Mo., as not to compromise Governor Shaeffer.

Four hundred men, from Jackson county, Mo., are now on route for Douglas county, Kansas Territory. St. Joseph and Weston, in Missouri, are requested each to recruit the same number of men, the people of Kansas are to be subjugated at all hazards.

LATER PROCEEDINGS.

Bloody Work Anticipated—Appeal to the President for Assistance—Strength of the Belligerents—Law bids Defense!

INDEPENDENCE, Mo., Dec. 3.

We have just received reliable intelligence from Kansas Territory, which increased the high excitement already existing here. You have been apprised of the origin of the difficulty—that of the arrest of a prisoner in the hands of the Sheriff, by a party of fifteen to twenty of the citizens of Lawrence and its vicinity, and their refusal to deliver any of the parties concerned in the mob and outrages up to any of the officers of the territory unless it be the Governor, or to those of the General Government. This determination is strengthened by the course pursued by Gen. Lane, and also by the editor of the paper at Lawrence, and a few other men of a similar stripe, who are continually making harangues to the populace, and urging them to make preparations for a fight.

On Saturday night Gen. Lane delivered a speech of this character, which was received with the greatest demonstrations of enthusiasm. Governor Shannon, seeing such a state of things existing, very properly ordered out the militia of the Territory, who did not respond very cordially to his wishes. Many of the citizens of the Western border counties in Missouri, willing to aid in quelling the disturbance, offered their assistance, and are now in readiness to go to the scene of difficulty at a moments warning.

Many have already gone from Lawrence, and the adjoining counties, well prepared for the emergency.

The Governor's party were from 250 to 300 men, at Franklin, a few miles distant, awaiting a greater force.

Reports have reached us that there are 1,000 men in Lawrence, organized and ready for resistance, all armed with Sharp's rifles, and that they are encroaching themselves as rapidly as they possibly can.

The corn that took the prize at the Iowa State Fair produced 102 bushels to the acre.

The increase of the American vote in New York this year over last is 21,542.

From another source we learn that the better men, Lawrence say they are willing to give up all concerned in the affair if the legally authorized persons seek it; however, they will resist to desperation. Governor Shannon in response said: "Why not deliver them to the Sheriff or to the U. S. Marshall, who have already demanded them?" Trouble will no doubt result from it, as much excitement exists as now.

A meeting is now being held in Kansas, to see if some measure cannot be adopted to terminate the matter peacefully, if possible, but forcibly if necessary.

On Saturday Governor Shannon applied to President Pierce, by telegraph, for assistance from the U. S. troops at Fort Riley and Leavenworth, and until such aid is granted nothing will be done, unless the excitement of the parties concerned will bring on the crisis before so many valuable lives will be lost.

Of all that transpires further I will endeavor to keep you promptly advised.

INDEPENDENCE, Dec. 3, P. M.—There is great excitement all through this upper country, and overwhelming numbers are pouring from every direction in the territory to sustain the laws.

Gen. Lane is encroaching himself and throwing up breastworks. He is also burning beacon lights, which can be seen for two miles from Lawrence, and bids defiance.

WEATON, Mo., Dec. 4.

A message was received late yesterday evening from T. T. Abel, Esq., at Atchison, Kansas Territory, stating that one of the leaders of the Kansas legion had been arrested by some of the citizens, and when he found he was taken, attempted to destroy some papers he had with him by chewing and swallowing them.

He was, however, prevented from doing it, and upon examination the papers were discovered to contain the secrets of the "Midnight Order."

Atchison was to be burned down, and Pat Laughlin, who exposed the secret abolition organization, was to be murdered.

The citizens of Atchison had mostly left that place to join Governor Thomas' forces at Lawrence, and their being scarce any arms remaining in the place, desired a company of armed men from Weston, to help them repulse any attack that might be made by the Abolitionists on the town.

A company of our citizens, therefore prepared themselves and left last night at 9 o'clock for Atchison.

The occurrences are producing a dreadful state of excitement in our midst. Groups of men are constantly watching about the streets to hear the latest news, and these disturbances increase, our large transactions in all this section of S. W. must necessarily be seriously checked.

First Turnes in KENTUCKY.—A correspondence of the Louisville Courier contains for that paper, the following facts.

The first almanac ever published in Kentucky was by the Messrs. Bradford, of Lexington, 1768. The year previous the same gentlemen established the first newspaper in the State. In 1788 the first Free Law and Greek were taught, and in April of the same year, the first dancing school was taught. The first watchmaker who settled in Kentucky was Mr. West, who commenced business in Lexington in 1772. In 1792 the same person made the first successful application of steam to navigation. He constructed a steam boat on a small scale, dammed up the Tomp fork of Elkhorn, and his boat moved through the water with great velocity. The first salt made in Kentucky was at Bullitt's Lick, in what is now Bullitt's Lick, in 1793. At one time there were five hundred persons engaged in the manufacture at that place. The first corn ever planted by a white man in Kentucky was by Simon Kenton, in Mason county, near the present town of Washington, in 1775. The first orchard in Kentucky was planted in 1774, on Salt river, in Mercer county. It embraced two acres and consisted of peaches and apples. Higbee's grist mill, near Lexington, erected in 1782, was the first of the kind put in operation in America.—Bishop England.

We have now given a laconic from both sides, and we hope all are satisfied. Since we have commenced the business, however, we will give a few more:

"Now is the time for these people to summon every aid, human and divine, to exhibit every moral virtue and call forth every christian virtue in behalf of America!"—JOSIAH QUINCY.

"Protestants of every form has not, and never can have any right when Catholism is triumphant.—Catholic Review.

"Here, Sir, in America, the people rule or govern; here they act by their immediate representatives, and do not think it necessary to consult a Pope!"—ALEX HAMILTON.

"The United States belong to our lord the Pope, and are his property, and the time is coming when the Roman Catholic religion will be the only one tolerated by the people.—PRIEST SULLIVAN.

"But while I do live, let me have a country, or at least the hope of a country, and that a free country.—JOHN ADAMS.

"I would rather half of the people of the nation should be burned at the stake than that one man should read the Bible, and form his judgment from its contents.—BISHOP SPENSER.

"R. M. Johnson was recently expelled from the class at the Cleveland Medical College, and refused the advantages of instruction, in consequence of a suspicion having got abroad that he had negro blood in his veins."

CHRISTIANITY IN CHINA.—In 1833 there were only some half a dozen Protestant Christians who could be assembled together for religious worship in China. Now there are daily religious services at Hong Kong and all the open cities—a score or more in all, upon the Sabbath, where thousands go to worship; and the whole mass of Chinese minds is stirred up by a body of insurgents, of whom one prominent characteristic is their rejection of the empire.

The Governor's party were from 250 to 300 men, at Franklin, a few miles distant, awaiting a greater force.

Reports have reached us that there are 1,000 men in Lawrence, organized and ready for resistance, all armed with Sharp's rifles, and that they are encroaching themselves as rapidly as they possibly can.

The corn that took the prize at the Iowa State Fair produced 102 bushels to the acre.

The increase of the American vote in New York this year over last is 21,542.

Lexington and Danville Railroad

In the last week we had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Roebeling, the distinguished Engineer of the Niagara Suspension Bridge, and who also furnished the plan and estimates for the Suspension Bridge over the Kentucky River, on the Lexington and Danville Railroad. The latter bridge, as our readers may know, is 100 feet longer than that over the Niagara. It will be the largest and best bridge of the kind in America—a noble monument to American Civil Architecture. Mr. Roebeling informs us that this bridge is going on finely, and having been on the spot, he testifies, in the strongest terms, to the ability and energy with which Gen. Combs is pressing forward the work; and to the prospects of the road for a great business when finished. As the road is comparatively a short one—thirty-six miles—many persons have underwritten its value. But this short distance, at the end of the Covington and Lexington, will furnish more business to Cincinnati, than the whole of the Covington and Lexington road. The reason is obvious, the Southern end of the Danville Railroad, to which produce is waggoned from points still further South, is 132 miles from Cincinnati, at which distance produce will be waggoned fifty miles to go on the road; but at Lexington or Paris, it will only be waggoned twenty or thirty miles. The area of new trade introduced by the Lexington and Danville Railroad, will be at least 1,600 square miles, and this is nearly or quite equal to the area now reached by the Covington road.

Our readers may know that the general condition of the road, we subjoin such particulars as we have. In the last week, the account stood thus: Amount of Stock Subscribed.....$652,452 Paid in.....$59,816 Total Receipts.....$61,642 Construction.....$73,963 It will be observed, that the road has ~~not~~—except a very trifling amount.—It has no Bonds, unless it may be some $5,000 or $6,000, for special purposes. Since June, we believe, an estimate of $10,000 per month has been paid, which would bring the construction account up to about $620,000. Of this, over $100,000 have been put in the bridge over the channel of the Kentucky river, and which is built on the solid rocks which line that river. This road has the extraordinary virtue, in these days, of having got along so far without debt. This virtue, however, seems to be less valued, than it ought to be. The great idea of the times seems to be, to get in debt as much as possible. But, if subscribers to a railroad stock ever should have confidence, it is in a road of this description, which, in the heart of a fertile country, and connecting with a great city, has been made with great care. About $70,000 only of the $100,000 pledged in Cincinnati, has yet been obtained. We trust that in the great wealth and business of Cincinnati, this small amount may be readily got.

CINNAMON.—The Oat house is now ready, lying in Lincoln county, and containing Between 500 and 600 Acres.
